

The diagram shows a rectangular print layout template. It features a central vertical green line and a horizontal blue line intersecting at the center. The top and bottom edges are marked with red lines. Arrows point from the text labels to these lines: two arrows point to the top red line, one arrow points to the horizontal blue line, and one arrow points to the vertical green line. The text is arranged in a clear, instructional manner, explaining the purpose of each line and the final dimensions of the product.
