

The diagram illustrates the layout of a 9x3 inch finished product. It features a central rectangular area divided into three horizontal sections by two green fold lines. The top and bottom sections are separated from the middle section by these green lines. A red line runs horizontally across the top of the central area, indicating where the product will be cut. A blue line runs horizontally across the bottom of the entire page, indicating the safety line. Arrows point to each of these lines with descriptive text. The finished size is 9x3 inches, and the size with bleed is 12.125x9.125 inches.
